

WVL-PAC Endorsements in Washington and Statewide

*Mary Anne Buchanan, WVFL
Office Manager*

Senator Shelley Moore Capito

has been voting pro-life for several congressional periods now. With a 100% voting record, West Virginians for Life PAC is confident that Senator Capito will continue this trajectory. She voted for the One Big Beautiful Bill (HR 1) which cut funding to agencies that perform abortions, effectively prohibiting federal funding to organizations like Planned Parenthood. The bill, unfortunately, cut off that funding for only a year. She has, many times, met with March for Life constituents at our sponsored Congressional meetings during that annual event.

*U.S. Senate
Shelley Moore

First District Congresswoman Carol Miller

has a solid pro-life record on Capitol Hill and wants to continue protecting the unborn. She also voted for The One Big Beautiful Bill and voted for the Supporting Pregnant and Parenting Women and Families Act (HR 6945), among others.

*U.S. House of Representatives
District 1

Second District Congressman Riley Moore

also has a proven pro-life voting record, has sponsored many pro-life bills, and defended those bills on the floor. Moore voted for The One Big Beautiful Bill and many others, including the Pregnant Students' Rights Act (HR 6359). He has spoken at West Virginians for Life's State Pro-Life Convention and addressed West Virginians at the annual March for Life in DC.

Fourteenth Annual Golf FORE Life Tournament a Success

Alicia Martin, WVFL Program Director

Eighteen teams participated in West Virginians for Life's 14th Annual Golf FORE Life Tournament. It was held on Saturday, July 11th, at the Preston Country Club in Kingwood. A brief rainstorm helped keep the temperature much more comfortable than in previous years.

The winner of the Putting Contest prior to the scheduled tee time was Chris Alaska, who gladly accepted his Lowe's $100 gift card. Chris also won the Closest to the Pin challenge, and received a discounted round of golf for four at Stonewall Resort in Roanoke. The winner of the 50/50 drawing was Howard Wilson. Regina Miller and Jason McNair each won autographed Tim Tebow memorabilia in the Silent Auction.

Almost Golf set up their Trackman computer system on Hole 4, where their excellent fundraising strategy combined old and new challenges with both fun and skill-building. The system precisely measured drives, and allowed them to be tracked with a line on a computer screen. In the Longest Drive contest, Zack McCollough won for the men, and Sarah Gnegy for the women. Before their turn, players were asked to guess the distance of their drive. Awards for best guess were given for men, women, and various distance categories. The Awards Ceremony was garnished with laughter when awards were also given for farthest right and farthest left.

Each person on the first-place team, fielded by Trinity Assembly of God, won $100. The foursome's 57 was 15 under par. Team members included Verlin Porter, Chris Alaska, Steve Mohr, and Scott Mohr.

The second-place team scored a 59, and each person on the team won $50 – which they generously donated back. Teammates were James Holehouse, Dan Milam, and Jason McNair.

With a score of 60, John Boye's team took third-place. They each won a $25 gift certificate to Almost Golf. Players included John Boye, Doug Nelson, Zac McCullough, and Roger Adams.

The tournament raised more than $10,000 for the West Virginians for Life Educational Trust Fund, a non-profit charity. The organization wishes to thank Platinum Sponsors Trinity Assembly of God and D&W Contractors, and Silver Sponsor Doug and Dana Leech. Thank you to Harry Green Chevy Nissan in Bridgeport for donating a gorgeous car for the hole-in-one challenge – which again eluded everyone. Thanks to these and many other sponsors and volunteers, the tournament was a success.

Golfers are invited to play in the 15th Annual Golf FORE Life at this same course next year. Please watch at WVforLife.org for the 2027 date to be announced.

An Opportunity to be Encouraged and Equipped

Dear Friends,

Our annual state convention is just around the corner, and we hope that you will be able to join us! We host many meaningful events throughout the year, but our convention is the best tailored to provide you with invaluable resources and education to equip you to continue the fight for life in West Virginia and in your smaller communities. We appreciate your willingness to further your knowledge of the issues by actively participating in our events.

Our convention theme, “We the People,” uses the language of our constitution to reflect our pro-life conviction that every human being - the unborn, elderly, those with disabilities or chronic illness - is part of the same community of human beings worthy of equal rights and protection under the law. Further, it emphasizes the idea that advocating for our vulnerable populations is part of our civic duty within the scope of public life in the United States, and is a concern for the whole nation.

In keeping with those beliefs, West Virginians for Life has continued to fight for protections for the youngest among us, even in a post-Roe America. Many of you are likely already familiar with the increasing threat of the dangerous abortion pill protocol to women and their unborn children: a drug touted as safe and simple, despite the fact that a study done by the Ethics and Public Policy Center found that 1 in 10 women will have serious complications from the use of this drug. It is for this reason that we have continued our “Don’t Swallow the Lie” Campaign that we initiated last year to educate West Virginians on the dangers of the abortion pill. The women of West Virginia deserve to know the truth, and they deserve better than abortion!

Our “Don’t Swallow the Lie” billboards, which direct viewers to DontSwallowTheLie.com, are currently in place in two locations in Morgantown, two in Fairmont, and one along I-79 in Harrison County. We hope to continue putting up more billboards to spread this education even further as additional donations and funding come in.

We are excited to welcome this year’s keynote speaker, Steven Mosher. Steven is an internationally recognized authority on China and population issues, as well as an acclaimed author and speaker. He has worked tirelessly since 1979 to fight coercive population control programs and has helped hundreds of thousands of women and families worldwide over the years. His pro-life beliefs were forged while visiting China, where he witnessed forced abortions under the one-child policy. Seeing firsthand what happens when governments deny the most basic human rights caused him to reevaluate his then pro-choice convictions, and he eventually become part of “We the People” who engage in protecting the vulnerable and became a pro-life Roman Catholic. Steven has made numerous appearances before Congress, on TV, and radio shows. He has also authored multiple books, articles and other publications.

We will also hear timely information from Mary Tillman, Legislative Coordinator for the WV Alliance for Ethical Health Care, a subcommittee of WVFL which seeks to change laws and policies to protect the lives of elderly and disabled persons. WVFL Vice President Riley Keaton will keep us up to date on what is happening both in West Virginia and nationally with regard to pro-life legislation.

And we can’t forget our young people! We are once again pleased to provide a teen day camp alongside our regular convention, led by Riley and Sadie Keaton. This day camp will provide training to help build up the future of the pro-life movement with the tools that they will need to continue the fight for life.

We hope that our convention provides you with valuable resources and knowledge, and that you will walk away with a reenergized and renewed passion for protecting life at all stages. Once again, we offer our heartfelt thanks and gratitude for your attendance and support.

For Life,

Lacey Evans, President

The Right to Life in Jeopardy

Wanda Franz, Ph.D., West Virginians for Life Executive Director

When the Supreme Court in 1973 “found” a right to abortion in the Constitution of the United States, a pro-life movement was aroused to defend the Constitution from such an irresponsible decision. The Constitution was written to defend life and, also, to provide “redress” to the people to form organizations that have the right to “petition” the government.

West Virginians for Life is an affiliate of the National Right to Life Committee (NRLC), the largest pro-life organization in America, with affiliates in every state. The Mission of this organization has always been to work within the Constitution and under the law to correct the 1973 error of the Supreme Court.

Supreme Court Justice Thomas has given a speech which was excerpted in the Wall Street Journal. He points out that the Constitution draws its “means” of government from the Declaration of Independence that “announces the ends of government.”

The ends of government, according to the Declaration, are to protect the God-given rights of all human beings to “life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.” These natural rights come before any government entity. Here in America, the government is designed to protect natural rights -- not manage government-controlled rights.

The United States of America is the only country on the planet that has a government designed in this way.

Justice Thomas points out that the Progressive movement in America is designed to be at odds with the American Constitution. He traces the development of the Progressive movement to the beginning of the twentieth century when European philosophers began developing their theories, which were taken up first in Germany, then Europe, and by Woodrow Wilson in the United States. President Wilson admired the Progressives in Germany, where the people were “docile and acquiescent.”

All of the dictators of the 20th Century, including Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini and Mao “were intertwined with the rise of progressivism.” Millions of people died in the 20th Century under this dangerous theory. Justice Thomas praises de Tocqueville’s Democracy in America for arguing that “...America owed its superiority over Europe to its conscious decision to reject central planning and administrative rule...” His conclusion is that progressivism is retrogressive.

President Lincoln, in his Gettysburg address, ended by resolving that the Civil War would produce “...a new birth of freedom, and that government, of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.”

Unfortunately, today we are witnessing a renewal of progressivism. It is taking over the Democratic Party in a very dangerous way. As pro-lifers, we know that the Constitution is the only document in the world that protects the life and dignity of every human being, born and unborn. We praise the Dobbs decision for overturning the disastrous Roe v. Wade decision, which put the Constitution’s protection of the dignity and life of each person in jeopardy.

Today, the progressives in the Democratic Party are pro-abortion and threatening to change the Constitution to put the ruling class in charge of government-control of the people. Justice Thomas points out that it is not surprising that the progressives have always had “a great deal of contempt” for the people, which is once-again surfacing in our political commentary.

The pro-life cause is at the heart of the debate between progressivism and the American way of life as presented in our Constitution. We are at a dangerous tipping point when our elected representatives are in a position to stand up for American values or allow our progressive opponents to do great damage.

West Virginians for Life is working hard to include the dignity, life and rights of all individuals in our West Virginia culture through the law. We deeply appreciate your past and future support.

Steven Mosher will be the Keynote Speaker at this year’s pro-life State Convention

Candidate Surveys and Voting Records

The following charts are a service to you describing the pro-life records of the candidates running in this year’s general election.

The first three columns consist of selected questions from the West Virginians for Life Candidate Survey. The questions for each are presented below. A “Y” answer is pro-life for all three questions. If no response is indicated, a survey was not received, or the candidate left the answer blank. Among others, the following three questions were asked:

1 = Do you agree that women deserve to be informed that the abortion pill can be reversed if treatment begins soon after she ingests the pill?

2 = Would you support legislation that adds provisions in the continuing education requirements for Emergency Room personnel and OB-GYNs regarding the dangers of abortion pills, and which provides information on the possibility of reversing the effects of a mifepristone-related abortion?

3 = Would you support legislation to promote and extend the work of the pregnancy help centers in the state of West Virginia?

The fourth and fifth columns indicate how the candidate voted on a particular bill. In both cases, a “Y” is a pro-life vote. (The blanks in these columns reflect the fact that many candidates have not previously served in the WV Senate or House of Delegates.) The two bills listed here are:

Down Syn Protect = Unborn Child with Down Syndrome Protection and Education Act. Protects unborn babies from being aborted due to a diagnosis of Down syndrome or other disability by requiring doctors to provide educational materials on the support systems available to families raising children with disabilities. (3/2/22 in Senate and 3/12/22 in House)

Unborn Child Protect = Unborn Child Protection Act. Protects almost all babies and women in WV from abortion. Exceptions are allowed for rape and incest, when reported to law enforcement, life of the mother, and infants with medical conditions incompatible for life. (9/13/22 in Senate and House) % pro-life votes: The sixth column is a compilation of votes from 2014-2026, and not just the two votes shown.

Pro-Life Profile: Regina Miller

By Patrica Johnson

Regina Miller's path to pro-life leadership began on a 110-acre farm in Elizabethtown, KY, where she grew up as the oldest of 6 children born within 7 years. Life on the farm demanded responsibility, resilience, and a maturity beyond her age. Two of her siblings had intellectual disabilities, and Regina learned early what it meant to nurture, advocate, and protect—lessons that would later shape her work in the pro-life movement, where she now serves as Vice President of the Preston County Chapter of West Virginians for Life.

Regina Miller

Raised Catholic, Regina developed a deep reverence for family and tradition. She also felt the weight of expectations and remembers the fear of disappointing her parents if she became pregnant outside of marriage and the shame that would have followed. Looking back, she acknowledges that in such a desperate moment, an abortion pill might have seemed like a “welcomed solution.” The recognition that she herself might have made a similar choice under pressure anchors her pro-life philosophy. She approaches the issue not with judgment, but with empathy. She endeavors to ensure that women with difficult or unplanned pregnancies feel supported, rather than alone. She believes that communities must offer real alternatives, real support, and real hope to abortion-minded women. This conviction guides her work today.

A spiritual turning point for Regina came during her husband Mike's final military assignment in NY. While attending services at the military chapel, a particular pastor's wife persistently invited her to join a Christian book club. This vibrant community of Christ centered women became a lifeline. From her first gathering until their relocation back to WV in 2008, Regina rarely missed a study and eventually began leading them. During this time, she came to feel the promise of 2 Corinthians 5:17, that she was becoming a new creation in Christ.

Today, Regina's life is anchored by her faith in Jesus Christ and the support of her husband of 44 years. They share three children and seven grandchildren, whose joy radiates through everything she does. Her faith is active and lived: worshiping with her church family, studying Scripture with Mike, and grounding her decisions in prayer. When Regina and Mike moved to Bruceton Mills in 2020, she began searching for both community and purpose — a place where she could give her time, talents, and resources. She found both through the Mon County Chapter of WVFL. The group welcomed her into its meetings, events, and outreach efforts, and Regina quickly recognized the dedication of members who had spent years advocating for life in WV. Their sustained work contributed to WV being recognized as the number one pro-life state in the nation, an accomplishment the chapter's volunteers are justifiably proud of.

Regina sees cultural division as one of the greatest challenges facing the pro-life movement. The US remains deeply split on abortion, and state-level legal battles have intensified since the SCOTUS Dobbs decision. She believes many Americans misunderstand the movement's goals, not realizing how much of its work centers on compassion, practical help, and long-term support for families. She hopes more people will come to understand the movement's emphasis on supporting mothers, strengthening families, and building community partnerships.

When the Preston County WVFL Chapter resurrected in July 2025, Regina accepted the Vice President role without hesitation. She was inspired by the chapter's energy, its powerful prayers for mothers and families, and its commitment to education and community involvement. She saw firsthand how local chapters could strengthen communities through compassion, practical help, and consistent outreach.

Looking ahead, Regina believes the future of the pro-life movement depends on expanding its mission beyond pregnancy support. She envisions a network of volunteers offering mentoring for young parents, job training, housing assistance, emotional and spiritual support, and long-term community partnerships. For the Preston County chapter, she hopes to engage younger generations because political debate alone cannot change hearts. Instead, she believes change will come through personal relationships, church partnerships, and consistent community outreach. When people feel heard rather than judged, hearts can change.

Regina Miller's journey from a KY farm to overseas military bases to the mountains of WV reflects a life shaped by faith, compassion, and a desire to serve. Her leadership in Preston County's pro-life movement is not rooted in ideology alone, but in lived experience, empathy, and a commitment to building a culture where every family feels supported and every life is valued. WVFL thanks Regina for her heartfelt conviction & service to serve mothers and babies in need.

WVFL TREASURER'S ARTICLE

The pills are THE issue, NOT the cure, and education is the ONLY answer.

Pastor Doug Joseph

I urge you all to attend our upcoming state convention. Find out why Planned Parenthood (and other companies that no one has heard of) are letting abortion facilities close down, and laughing all the way to the bank while we celebrate their closures. The abortion industry no longer wants to be in the business of having brick and mortar facilities and dealing with women face to face. Why should they deal with the risk and cost and headache when they can just rake in profit and mail pills that kill babies almost 100% of the time while also seriously hurting 1 out of 9 women who take them, and in many cases the abortionists are protected from any possible recrimination by shield laws, anonymity, distance, and ignorance? States can outlaw pills being mailed, but how can it be enforced effectively? This all means our DontSwallowTheLie.com educational campaign is more important than ever. Related: Lamar Outdoor's legal department must really hate the thought of thousands of babies being saved by abortion pill reversal because they fight us about billboards for DontSwallowTheLie.com at every chance they get. We keep getting billboards up by using other companies.

Please remember WVFL in your year-end giving, and unless you itemize deductions on your tax return, please donate to our C-4, not our C-3. Your donated time, talent, and treasure has perhaps never been more important!

Greenbrier County

Co-leaders Angela Malo and Ann Turley spoke with the community visiting the Dandelion Festival in downtown White Sulphur Springs May 23. While the cool, rainy day was discouraging for some, they were able to speak with those who knew nothing about WV for Life or the reason for its existence. This annual festival, which is always held during Memorial Day weekend, attracts people visiting from other states as well as those returning to their home roots. A few of those patrons took information back to their hometowns for use with their family members.

Preston County

Preston County Right to Life has renewed its presence in the community, officially relaunching its chapter in July 2025 under the leadership of Cindy Mansberger, President, and Regina Miller, Vice-President. Over the past year, membership has grown steadily, and the chapter has taken part in nearly every West Virginians for Life event, strengthening its role in statewide pro-life efforts. Most recently, the chapter sponsored a hole in the 14th Annual Golf FORE Life Tournament held July 11 at Preston Country Club. Several committed volunteers from the organization devoted their entire day to supporting the event, reflecting the chapter's renewed energy and dedication. Residents of Preston County who feel called to support the pro-life mission are invited to join the chapter. For details, contact Cindy Mansberger at 304-290-2728 or Regina Miller at 315-778-5543.

Upshur County

Upshur County Right to Life participated in the West Virginia Strawberry Festival Junior Royalty parade. Around 300 stuffed animals and packets with information on Upshur County Right to Life, abortion pill reversal, and information on the Pregnancy Resource Center and candy were distributed.

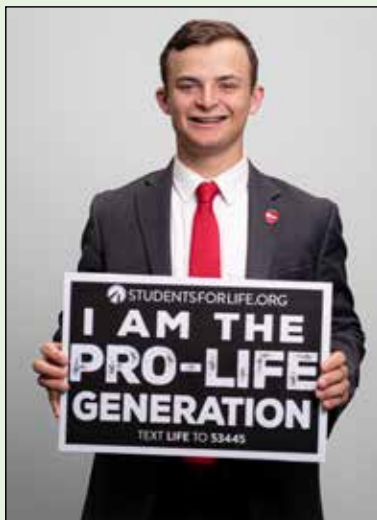

If you are interested in joining the Upshur County Right to Life group, they meet the second Tuesday of each month at 6 p.m. at Wayside Baptist Church on the Brushy Fork Road.

Hello Pro-Lifers,

One of my favorite events of the year has come and gone: the annual Students for Life conference in Washington, D.C. I got to connect with some familiar faces that I have grown acquainted with throughout the years, and met some new faces in the movement that are excited to get the job done in their respective states. I was also joined at this conference by some fellow West Virginia champions for life: Senator Chris Rose, Delegate Chris Anders, and State Senate candidate Toby Heaney. We had an excellent time!

Currently, I am working on how to advance legislation in West Virginia to ban chemical abortion pill trafficking. We have been able to get this legislation out of the state Senate for the past few years, but we've had trouble in our House of Delegates. Very exciting times! More to come.

Warm regards,
Thomas J. Dinkel
